Items under this heading will appear Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The editor will appreciate all assistance rendered.

The Flyers.

Miss Katherine Radey entertained the Flyers and other friends on Wednesday afternoon with five tables of high five, in honor of Miss Woods of Waco. After several spirited games Miss Sadie Ash was awarded the first prize, a sterling silver nail buffer. An elaborate two course luncheon was enjoyed. Dr. Cain was an honored guest, being the only gentleman present. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lovell Bay of Dallas, Miss Irbay of New York and Miss Libbie Klein of Denver, Colo.

Daughters of American Revolution.

Mrs. A. R. Howard entertained the Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting. Mrs. Lucius Gooch was leader. "The Refugees," by Conan Doyle, was discussed and very interestingly. Table Talk: "Early French Settlements in America." Mrs. A. R. Howard, regent, was elected delegate and Mrs. G. E. Dilley, alternate, to the Continental Congress, to be held at Washington in April. After the business session, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Howard serving an elegant two-course luncheon. Miss Marjorie Kirschner of Galveston was a guest.

Bachelor Maids.

Mrs. Tucker Royall entertained the Bachelor Maids Thursday afternoon. Six tables were arranged for the players, and five hundred was the game of the afternoon. At the close of the games a two-course luncheon was enjoyed. The guests of the club were: Mesdames P. H. Hughes, Newell Kane, R. E. Williams, Lev. Frederick, H. V. Hamilton and Lovell Bay of Dallas; Misses Helen Markle, Mattie Cad Gardner, Willie Pearl Gardner, Bess Ferguson and Louise Stevens.

Six O'Clock Dinner.

Mrs. M. A. Martin complimented Mr. W. H. Werremeyer with an elegant six o'clock dinner Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being his birthday, and he being far from his old home and loved ones. Covers were laid for the following: The honored guest, Mr. W. H. Werremeyer, Messrs. Elder Woolridge, Raymond Woolridge, Will Spitzner, Phil Lyrer, Lawrence Pierce, J. Pierce and M. A. Pinette.

Tacky Party.

The Philathea and Baracca classes of Centenary Methodist Sunday school entertained with a "tacky party" at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Gooch during the holidays.

On entering all were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Gooch and the social committee. We were then shown into the parlor, where all of our "old time" friends were assembled, prominent among whom were Uncle Josh and Aunt Samantha. After lively conversation the guests were invited to the dining room, which was destitute of chairs and tables, so the company comfortably seated themselves upon the floor. A little play was then put on by Messrs. Thresto, Pearson and Murphy, Misses Huff, Gilliam and Patrick. "The Bachelor's Dream" proved to be a very efficient dramatic production, and was much applauded.

After the play we all attended a millinery auction, Mr. Gooch being the auctioneer. It was hard to say who had the best bargain, and as the stylish hats had to be trimmed, all tried their taste at the millinery art. We all put on our lovely bonnets, and marched through the house to the tune of old-time music by Mrs. Pearson. The judges were Mr. Murphy and Miss Gilliam, who graciously awarded the prizes. The prize for the tackiest girl was a stick of peppermint candy, and was awarded to Miss Lee Morris. The prize for the tackiest boy was a bottle of Hoyt's Cologne, and was given to Mr. Will Blackshear. The president of the class that had the most members present was to receive something, so Miss Eleanor Garess, president of the Philathea Class, was presented with a beautiful tin spoon.

Then we all repaired to the kitchen, where we again put our "taste" to the test, and it can be truthfully said that we showed more taste for refreshments than we did for millinery. Salad was served in wooden trays and chocolate in tin cups.

After refreshments all lingered for awhile, and at a late hour good-night was reluctantly said. This was indeed the most enjoyable entertainment given by our classes.

Those present were:

Rev. James A. Kilgore, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Gooch, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pearson, Mr. Byrnes, Misses Allee Patrick, Helen Gilliam, Fay Huff, Eleanor Garess, Johnnie Moore, Lenore Byrnes, Ethel Kestler, Myrtle Williams, Margaret Richardson, Nannie Rhodes, Claudia Barrett, Hally Garess; Will Blackshear, Charlie Thresto, Wesley Murphy, Ellery Benton, Joe Davis, Alva Shade, Walter McGar, Herbert Dellis, Rayford Buttrill, Rex Richardson, Fred Norris.

A NEGRO GOT ROBBED

Says Two Other Negroes Waylaid Him in the Railroad Yards, and Hit Him With Brake Beam.

This morning a negro, named not learned, reported that last evening in the I. & G. N. railroad yards he was waylaid, knocked in the head with a brake beam, and robbed of $23, by two negro men. He could not give a very accurate description of the men. The victim says he was passing through the yards when the two men approached him and engaged him in conversation. Before he was aware of their designs he was hit a stunning blow on the head, and when he came to his money was gone.

JUDGE A. A. ALDRICH

Will Speak to Presbyterian Congregation Sunday Morning.

Judge A. A. Aldrich of Crockett will address the congregation of the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock on the subject of the laymen's missionary movement. The pastor earnestly requests the presence of all members and friends to hear the discussion of this important topic. Judge Aldrich will also speak at the Congregational church at the night service.

At the Lyric.

The management says: Miss Libbie Blondell and Mr. Aubrey Carr scored another big success at the New Lyric Theatre last night. The house was crowded to the door for the first show, many having to stand during the first performance.

Miss Blondell, the vivacious actress, sang several catchy songs in a charming voice and she is a different type of comedienne from all seen here thus far. She possesses more than an ordinary share of good looks and her handsome gowns are much admired by all the ladies. A press notice, in speaking of her work at the New Colonial Music Hall, Broadway, New York, says: "She acts with such interesting enthusiasm that she has been dubbed 'Smiling Libbie Blondell.'" Mr. Aubrey Carr, the male member of the team, is also an actor of more than average ability, having appeared on the vaudeville stage in many of the large houses in the east, as well as in England; in fact, it is not often that such talented people are seen in one of the small theatres in Texas.

Tonight they will put on their feature act, entitled, "Late For Dinner," as originally played by them in Lincoln Park Theatre, New York.

HOME TALENT MINSTRELS

At the New Temple Theatre Pleased a Large Audience—Benefit For Organized Charities.

A large crowd was present last night at the New Temple Theatre to witness the performance by the Minstrel Comedy company, and it was one of the best local talent shows ever produced in Palestine. The minstrel was given as a benefit for the Organized Charities.

The first part setting was very pretty, and the electrical horse shoes and arch added much to the beauty of the setting. The opening ensemble of several songs was first, and then Mr. Will Stinnett sang "Moonlight in Jungle Land" very effectively, while Mr. Tom Welch in "My Dream Girl" was good. "Cubana Glide," by Tom Small, brought forth applause, and "Twilight," rendered by John Cohen, was fine. Otto Skipwith sang "Do Your Duty, Doctor," and pleased, while the bass solo, "Down in the Depths," by Mr. W. H. Werremeyer, was very good. The first part closed with "The Good Old United States," by Chas. Russ, assisted by the entire company.

The second part was very creditable for a home talent show, and opened with a black face turn by John Cohen, which brought forth much laughter.

Thresto and Sherman, singing and talking comedians, were up to their usual standard with their act.

The quartette, composed of Messrs. Welch, Spitzner, Werremeyer and Small, in the latest songs, were liberally applauded, and responded to an encore.

King and Cohen, talking and dancing comedians, were next, and their act was good, the dancing being a feature.

Haerdtnr and Nelson, eccentric acrobats and comedians, were one of the features of the show, and their work was very fine. Some difficult contortion acts were pulled off by them, and they were liberally applauded.

The grand finale, "My Cousin From Yale," as produced by Stinnett, Russ and Cohen, assisted by the company, was a scream from start to finish.

Mr. Ben Walker, musical director, assisted by Lawrence Weatherby, furnished the music for the show.

The producing company was composed of the following: John C. Cohen, W. H. Werremeyer, Phil Griffin, Tom Small, Ben Walker, Gus Haerdtnr, Chas. Russ, Bob Lancaster, Will Stinnett, Tom Welch, Otto Skipwith, Will Thresto, Guy Sherman, Tom King, W. H. Briggs, Will Kestler, A. M. Cohen, Chas. Nelson, Will Spitzner, Matt Welch.

EXCELLENT ATTRACTION

Comes to the Temple Theatre For a Week's Run.

A press notice says:

The DeArmond Sisters' Big Stock company of twenty-five ladies and gentlemen, including the Royal Flores Family of ten solo musicians, will open a week's engagement at the New Temple Theatre commencing Monday night. The opening play will be a four act production of the beautiful story "An American Actress." During the company's stay in Palestine an entirely new line of plays will be presented, and new operatic selections from the Spanish orchestra will be a novel feature, while eight headline vaudeville acts will be introduced nightly.

Ladies free on opening night under usual conditions. Reserved seat sale now open at Swift's Book Store.

Frank Dublin For Constable.

The Herald is authorized to announce the name of Mr. Frank E. Dublin as a candidate for constable of precinct No. 1, subject to the action of the democratic party. Mr. Dublin is well known to all of this people. He made the race two years ago for his office, and received a very flattering vote, and this time he wants to be elected. He assures his friends and all voters that if he is elected, as he hopes to be, he will give the office his very best attention, and make the best constable he knows how.
